

Types of Italy's Fighters

Sailors of the Italian Navy Manipulating One of the Guns of the Secondary Battery on Board a Battleship. The Italian Navy Has a Personnel of 36,000 Men Under the Command of the Duke of Genoa. The two Active Squadrons Are Commanded by Vice Admiral Amero and the Duke of the Abruzzi.

Battleship of the Italian Navy Firing a Broadside. The Italian Navy Ranks Seventh Among the Nations of the World. It Possesses 7 Modern Battleships, 9 First-Class Cruisers and Many Subsidiary Ships of Various Classes, Including 20 Submarines.